MILWAUKEE, Wisconsin – Known as the “digital Nazi hunter” who “trolls the trolls” online and counters hate on social media, Yair Rosenberg will deliver the keynote address this Thursday at the Jewish Community Relations Council of Milwaukee Jewish Federation Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting includes presenting awards to members of the greater Milwaukee community:

• Robert H. Friebert Social Justice Award to Reggie Jackson and Fran Kaplan, who have worked to raise consciousness about the legacy of slavery, race and racism through the work of America’s Black Holocaust Museum.
• Imitatio Dei Award (Image of God) to Judith Longdin, worked as director of the Office of Ecumenical and Interfaith Concerns for the Archdiocese of Milwaukee from 1993 until her retirement in January 2018.
• Special recognition of Debbie Carter Berkson, of blessed memory, who devoted her professional life as a social worker helping families and individuals in need, and as a volunteer worked tirelessly for social action causes.
