Information contained in the Guide is provided by the individual contributors. All efforts are made to acquire updated information annually.
eora Saposnik is a Madison-based mixed-media artist who works primarily in ceramics and mosaics. Saposnik grew up in Haifa, Israel, and took her first clay classes in a bomb shelter there at the age of eight.

"The irony of it didn't resonate in my world at the time. Yet, I always felt that at the entrance to this shelter, the rest of the world was left behind; it seemed to me that time and place had somehow been suspended," Saposnik writes.

Saposnik's art tells stories and creates snapshots of intimate moments. She believes that life is about the art we make by forming connections with each other, and her pieces reflect this intersection of life and art.

Saposnik is influenced by a strong connection to her culture and to history including the Holocaust. She draws on her experience collecting oral histories for Yad Vashem, Israel's Holocaust memorial and museum, and the University of Southern California Shoah Foundation. She is also inspired by fantastical artists like Marc Chagall and Faith Ringgold.

Above all, Saposnik’s art is influenced by her love of children and by her desire to unearth the sheer joy of being a child. Believing that every child should have the right to an equal education and means of expression, Saposnik started a children's art program called Little Picassos. The goal of the program is that every child finds their true potential through exploration of art. Saposnik is the artistic director and teacher at Little Picassos and finds it to be the perfect pairing of her two passions.

One of Saposnik's most noted pieces, Milk, was inspired by the story of Emanuel Ringelblum and the clandestine organization he created in the Warsaw Ghetto to document the German Nazi destruction of Polish Jewry. The piece is covered by photos of Wisconsin Holocaust survivors whom Saposnik had the pleasure of interviewing and befriending and has been on display in many cultural organizations including the Jewish Museum Milwaukee. Milk was constructed of coiled clay, which "harkens back to the biblical conception that man is made of clay."

Saposnik describes herself as “a unique blend of Wisconsin and Israel,” having moved between the two over the years. She currently resides in Madison with her husband, who is a professor of horticulture at UW-Madison, and their two children.

The Milwaukee Jewish Federation cares for the needs of the Jewish people and builds a vibrant Jewish future in Milwaukee, in Israel and around the world. We are thousands of Milwaukeeans who contribute financial resources, time, and expertise that, combined with the power of our partner agencies, make an impact none of us can make alone. It’s the power of collective action, and it’s what the Federation is all about.

We are part of a network of Jewish Federations across the United States and Canada that collectively are among the top 10 charities in the world. Our movement raises and distributes more than $4 billion annually for social welfare, social services and educational needs, and protects and enhances the well-being of Jews worldwide.

As the center for Jewish philanthropy in Milwaukee, we’re leading our Jewish community’s response to the crisis in Ukraine just as we have led the community response and recovery from the pandemic. We’re helping the many individuals and families who are struggling or seeking connection to Jewish life, and we’re supporting the Jewish organizations that serve them.

BRIT MILAH (Covenant of circumcision)
You shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskin; and it shall be a token of the covenant between Me and you. — Genesis 17:11
Male babies are circumcised on the eighth day, barring health problems, to symbolize the covenant between God and the Jewish people.

SIMCHAT BAT (Rejoicing for a daughter)
Traditionally, a daughter is named in the synagogue during the Torah reading after her birth. Some people now develop their own ceremonies to welcome a new daughter.

PIDYON HABEN (Redemption of the first-born)
Sanctify unto Me all the first-born, whatever opens the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and of beast, it is Mine. — Exodus 13:2
Redemption of the first-born son (if he is the family’s first child) takes place 30 days after birth. In ancient Israel, the first-born were dedicated to serve God in the Temple. To redeem them, five shekels were paid to the kohen (priest) to serve in the boys’ stead. Today, the kohen is given five silver dollars, which are donated to charity, and a festive meal follows.

BAR AND BAT MITZVAH
The ceremony to honor the coming of age of males originated in the Middle Ages. There is no source for this celebration in the Torah. In traditional settings, this is the first time that a young man is called to bless the Torah. The 13-year-old thus becomes responsible for the mitzvot (commandments) of praying three times a day, participating in a minyan (prayer quorum) and putting on tefillin every morning. Over the past 50 years, girls have embraced the opportunity to celebrate a Jewish coming of age. In egalitarian settings, girls celebrate the day, barring health problems, to symbolize the covenant between God and the Jewish people.

CONFIRMATION
A ceremony held in Reform and Conservative synagogues, usually during the observance of Shavuot, to celebrate the Jewish commitment of the congregation’s 10th or 11th graders. The students usually have completed post-bar/bat mitzvah Jewish study.

MIKVAH (Ritual bath)
“Living” water (collected rain water piped into a pool) is used for purification. During the days of the Temples in Jerusalem, there were many occasions when ritual purification was required in order to participate in the Temple services. Today, only women are still required under Jewish law to immerse themselves at special times (before marriage, after childbirth, after the menstrual cycle). Immersion also is required by Jewish law before conversion. Many observant men immerse themselves before the Sabbath and holidays for spiritual reasons.

CHANUKAT HABAYIT (Dedicating the home)
And these words, which I command thee this day shall be upon thy heart ... and you shall write them upon the doorposts of your house and upon your gates. — Deuteronomy 6:6-9
Affixing mezuzot (decorative casings containing parchments with biblical inscriptions) to the doorposts of a new home is cause for celebration. Traditionally, this is done within 30 days of moving into a house or apartment. Mezuzot are placed on the upper third of the doorpost, on the right side as one enters. The ceremony is followed by refreshments and rejoicing.

MARRIAGE
And the Lord said: “It is not good that the man should be alone, I shall make him a helpmate for him.”— Genesis 2:18
One of the first blessings every parent bestows upon a child is that he or she reach the marriage canopy. This wedding consists of several parts. The main elements are kiddush erusin (sanctification of betrothal); the betrothal blessing; presentation of the ring; reading of the ketubah (marriage contract) and its presentation to the bride; recitation of the seven marriage blessings; drinking of wine to sanctify the marriage and breaking of the glass to remember the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem even amidst the joy of the occasion. Traditional weddings are preceded by the bedeken, in which the groom places the veil over the bride’s head after making certain that he is getting the correct bride. This custom stems from the patriarch Jacob, who was fooled into marrying his intended bride’s sister.

DIVORCE
Judaism recognizes that not every marriage is successful and allows for divorce. Financial provisions are made in the ketubah (marriage contract). Under Jewish law, a get (religious divorce) is required in addition to a civil divorce. Although both parties must agree to the get, no grounds are required. The beit din (religious court) prepares the get and handles the documents.

DEATH
Jewish tradition recognizes death as the completion of life. Burial takes place as soon as possible, preferably within 24 hours. Traditionally, the body is washed by members of a chevra kadisha (burial society) and dressed in white linen garments, so that everyone goes to the grave equally. Preserving the body through embalming is prohibited by Jewish law, as are metal caskets, which preserve the remains. Judaism has a formalized mourning procedure with seven days of intense mourning (shiva) followed by 30 days of semi-mourning (shloshim). After a parent’s death, semi-mourning continues for a year.
SHABBAT (Sabbath)
And God blessed the seventh day and hallowed it. — Genesis 2:3
The Sabbath, a day of rest, worship and study, begins 20 minutes before sundown Friday night and ends at nightfall on Saturday, when three stars can be seen in the sky.

ROSH HASHANAH (Jewish New Year) ♦ 1-2 Tishrei
And on the seventh month, on the first day of the month, you shall have a holy convocation. — Numbers 29:1
The beginning of the Jewish calendar year, Rosh HaShanah begins the Ten Days of Awe, a period of repentance and prayer that concludes on Yom Kippur. Traditions include dipping apples in honey to symbolize a sweet year and using round loaves of challah to symbolize the cycle of life.

YOM KIPPUR (Day of Atonement) ♦ 10 Tishrei
And on the 10th day of the seventh month... you shall afflict your souls. — Numbers 29:7
On this holiest of holidays, Jews everywhere fast and pray for forgiveness for their sins. The sounding of the shofar (ram’s horn) signals the end of the holiday.

SUHKOT (Festival of Booths) ♦ 15-21 Tishrei
On the 15th day of the seventh month is the feast of Tabernacles for seven days. — Leviticus 23:34
On this first of the three pilgrimage holidays, farmers in ancient Israel traveled to the Temple in Jerusalem with the fruits of their harvest. Today, Jews erect sukot (booths) modeled after the make-shift huts their ancestors lived in during the 40 years wandering in Sinai. For the week of the holiday, meals are eaten in the sukkah, and some Jews sleep in the sukkah as well.

SHEMINI ATZERET (Eighth Day of Assembly) ♦ 22 Tishrei
On the eighth day, you shall have a solemn assembly. — Numbers 29:35
In the diaspora, Shemini Atzeret is a separate holiday that signals the end of Sukkot. In Israel, the holiday is celebrated on Simchat Torah. The prayer for rain is said, ending the dry season in Israel.

SIMCHAT TORAH (Rejoicing for the Torah) ♦ 23 Tishrei
... and on the eighth day, there shall be a holy convocation for you. — Leviticus 23:34
The annual cycle of reading the Torah (Five Books of Moses) aloud in the synagogue is completed, and a new cycle begins. The holiday is celebrated with dance and song.

CHANUKAH (Festival of Lights) ♦ 25 Kislev-2 Tevet
A minor festival not derived from the Torah, Chanukah celebrates the victory of the Jews over the Seleucid Greek/ Hellenists, the regaining of Jerusalem and rededication of the Holy Temple.
According to tradition, the miracle of Chanukah stems from the one cruse of consecrated oil that was discovered in the Temple, which burned for eight days until more pure oil could be made. Foods fried in oil, such as latkes (potato pancakes) and sufganiot (jelly donuts), are eaten.

TU B’SHEVAT (New Year for Trees) ♦ 15 Shevat
To celebrate the coming of spring to Israel, some people eat fruits that are newly in season as part of a festive meal featuring many new fruits.

PURIM (Lots) ♦ 14 Adar
The Book of Esther is read in the synagogue on this holiday, which is also of the post-Torah period. Celebrants dress in costume and make merry. Purim celebrates the rescue of the Jews in ancient Persia on a day that, according to tradition, was determined by lot.
Families send gifts of food to one another and donate to charity. Traditional foods include hamantaschen (triangular cookies filled with fruit or poppy seeds). A festival meal is eaten before sunset.

PESACH (Passover) ♦ 15-22 Nissan
Seven days shall there be no leaven found in your houses; for whosoever eats that which is leavened, that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel. — Exodus 12:19
The eight-day festival (seven days in Israel) commemorates the Jewish exodus from Egypt. On the first two nights, families gather for a seder, a ritual meal focused on the reading of the Hagaddah, an account of the exodus. Matzah (unleavened bread) is eaten throughout the holiday.
YOM HASHOAH
(Holocaust Remembrance Day) ✡ 27 Nissan
On this day, Jews commemorate the victims of, and the resistance to, the German Nazi genocide of European Jewry during World War II.

YOM HAZIKARON
(Israel’s Memorial Day) ✡ 3 Iyar
Jews around the world remember those who gave their lives for the achievement of Israel’s independence and its continued existence.

YOM HAATZMAUT
(Israel Independence Day) ✡ 4 Iyar
Celebrating the birth of the State of Israel in 1948, Jews around the world hold parades and picnics.

LAG B’OMER
(33rd day during the counting of the Omer) ✡ 18 Iyar
Lag B’Omer is a break in the weeks of semi-mourning between Pesach and Shavuot. Traditionally, it commemorates a halt in a plague that afflicted Rabbi Akiva’s students in ancient Israel. The holiday is celebrated with picnics and bonfires.

SHAVUOT
(Festival of Weeks) ✡ 6-7 Sivan
And the Lord said unto Moses: “Lo I come unto thee in a cloud that the people may hear when I speak with thee.” — Exodus 34:22
The anniversary of receiving the Torah on Mt. Sinai falls seven weeks after Passover. One of the three pilgrimage festivals, it celebrates the end of the spring harvest. The holiday’s customs include decorating the home and synagogue with flowers, eating dairy products and staying up the entire night studying.

TISHA B’AV
(Ninth Day of Av)
Tisha B’Av is a day of fasting and mourning for the Holy Temples in Jerusalem, both of which were destroyed on this day. The book of Lamentations is read. Traditionally, no leather shoes are worn.

The Rabbi Ronald and Judy Shapiro Museum of Judaica at Congregation Shalom is designed to showcase artifacts and art relevant to Jewish religion, culture, and history, while additionally depicting Congregation Shalom’s decades-long presence as a Jewish Reform synagogue in the Midwest.

The Museum is housed in four areas throughout the circular-shaped synagogue, with each section created to draw visitors into distinct periods of Jewish art and culture. More than 225 items have been catalogued to depict:

- Religious artifacts, archaeological finds, literature and art that reflect centuries-old contributions of Jewish people across the Mideast, Europe and the United States;
- A Midrashic art collection of 19th and 20th century works reflecting stories from the Hebrew Bible, including pieces by Joseph Israels, Salvador Dali, Theo Tobiasse and Marc Chagall;
- Works of internationally-renown artists such as Yaacov Agam and Reuven Rubin that celebrate the energy and spirit of modern-day Israel;
- Household items and art retrieved from the homes of European Jews who were caught up in the Holocaust. These items are displayed alongside works of post-war Jewish American artists paying tribute to “life in the Old World.” The exhibit includes the only known mural ever executed by famed Wisconsin regional artist Joseph Friebert. This section also displays a 19th century Czech Torah rescued during WWII and sent to the U.K. This Torah is now proudly housed on permanent loan at Congregation Shalom.

In addition to Joseph Friebert’s mural, The Rabbi Ronald and Judy Shapiro Museum of Judaica houses custom works by internationally known sculptors Richard Edelman and Suzi Derzon. Their unique contributions in bronze, metal, tapestry and stained glass not only constitute the core of the Museum, but are also viewed by congregants as integral to our daily synagogue activities and services.

Signage in each section allows for self-guided tours; free docent group tours can also be arranged by appointment. Please call the temple office at 414-352-9288 to schedule.

Active daily water play, sports specials and playground time combine with an in-depth exploration of our natural environment central to our summer curriculum. From this stems a rich blend of science, art, construction, dramatic play and language arts activities. This year the children will be exploring habitats of people and various wildlife and their environments. We will become nature detectives with our visiting naturalists to enhance our knowledge and experiences. Incorporating materials from nature, we will create works of art that inspire wonder and appreciation for the outdoors. We look forward to celebrating the whole child and the sensory joys of summer. Through physical activity and calm reflection, we will examine our connection to each other and the natural world around us.

Our camp is located on 120 acres on the shores of crystal clear Devils Lake in Webster, Wisconsin. Herzl Camp is a traditional camp experience where campers escape from technology to spend lots of time outdoors, exploring nature, trying new sports and activities while building friendships and self-confidence. We are an independent, non-profit camp and, for over 75 years, Herzl has been the place for kids to go for summers full of ruach (spirit), Shabbat and friendship. A summer at Herzl builds independence and self-reliance as well as Jewish identity and friendships that last a lifetime.

Activities include sports, music, swimming, boating, rock climbing, Ultimate Frisbee, drama, dance, Israeli culture, organic gardening, wilderness skills, archery, photography, biking and so much more. Counselors and specialists are selected for their skill, maturity, knowledge and natural connection with children. Most are Herzl Camp alumni. 1:3 staff-to-camper ratio. One-through five-week sessions. Entering grades 3-11. ACA accredited.

This section does not permit burial of cremains. Sha’ar Shalom (Gates of Peace), which requires those who are buried to have been born Jewish, converted to Judaism, or a close relative of a Jewish person who was buried or expects to be buried here. It also allows burial of cremains. Requirements for burial in these sections are in the JBAM “Rules and Regulations” document on our website.

Headquartered in Milwaukee, ABCD is a national breast cancer organization that nurtures hope and restores confidence by providing free, customized, one-to-one emotional support to empower anyone impacted by a breast cancer diagnosis — patients, families and friends. Working as a complement to medical care, all of our support services are delivered virtually over the phone or online, making them available anywhere in the world. Decades of research indicate that patients who take advantage of non-clinical support like ABCD’s customized, one-to-one support are more likely to finish treatment, have improved survival rates, show a reduced risk of recurrence, and report experiencing less distress, healthier social relationships, and an improved quality of life.

Our signature service is creating a unique match between a breast cancer patient and a professionally trained volunteer mentor/breast cancer survivor or thriver who not only share a similar diagnosis and treatment plan, but also have common interests, similar ages, personal traits and family dynamics. We currently have over 200 diverse mentors located throughout the United States, enabling us to make truly personalized connections. ABCD also connects people with trusted, reliable resources to help answer questions about diagnoses, appearance products like wigs, survivorship care, and work and life issues. Our confidential services can be delivered at time of diagnosis, during treatment and on into survivorship.

The Milwaukee Jewish Teen Philanthropy Board is a community-wide program that engages Jewish teens in a communal giving and learning effort to achieve our goal of tikkun olam, “repairing the world.” A diverse group of Jewish students in high school from the greater Milwaukee area attend monthly sessions centered around grant making, non-profit functions and the philanthropic model. In empowering teens to use philanthropy as a means to make social change, the sessions cover a variety of topics ranging from understanding community need, developing grant strategies, evaluating grant proposals, performing site visits and practicing strategic decision-making and consensus-building techniques.

The Milwaukee Jewish Federation’s NextGen programs help ensure that the Milwaukee Jewish community goes from strength to strength across the generations.
