ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR GIVING

MILWAUKEE
JEWISH FEDERATION

Generations of supporters to the Annual Campaign have enabled the Milwaukee Jewish Federation to address the most critical needs of the day. Sometimes these needs require additional financial support to complement funding through the Annual Campaign. This year, we offer several additional opportunities for giving.

SECURITY

As antisemitism flourishes, so must Federation's security program. This year we expanded to Jewish communities across Wisconsin, including site assessments, federal grant proposals, training, crisis response, and more. Additional funds will enable us to provide additional services and to sustain the state-wide expansion.

NEXTGEN

Our NextGen program engages younger adults to create an empowered, generous, skilled, and motivated community to lead us...today, tomorrow, and always. Additional funds will allow us to reach more people with more extensive training and programs.

JEWISH EQUITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Milwaukee participated in the first national cohort of Jewish Equity Diversity and Inclusion training developed by Jewish Federations of North America. Our goal is to create a more inclusive and welcoming community by providing JEDI training to all local Jewish organizations.

COMMUNITY STUDY

The last community study was completed over a decade ago. We are embarking on a new study that will guide critical decision-making by Federation, local Jewish organizations, and funders. Funds are required to hire a research firm that specializes in Jewish demographic studies.

HUMANITARIAN NEEDS

The needs of Ukrainians inside the country and those who have fled increase daily. In Ethiopia, thousands are still waiting to arrive in Israel and reunite with their family members, sometimes after decades of separation. Additional funding will help meet these extraordinary humanitarian needs.

ENDOWED GIFTS

Our Annual Campaign receives 17% of its funding through legacy gifts that can be established now and funded after your lifetime. Endowing your Annual Campaign gift ensures that your financial commitment to our community will last forever.
