About the Cover Artist – Blimie Twerski

Blimie (blee-me) is a proud Canadian living in Milwaukee, Wis., enjoying the slow pace of “smaller city” living, and sometimes missing the chaos of the big city. She and her family live on the West Side of Milwaukee, where her husband, Rabbi Chaim is assistant rabbi to his father, Rabbi Benzion and grandfather, Reb Michel Twerski at Congregation Beth Jehudah. Together they and their wives all assist their community in matters physical and spiritual, helping build up the Orthodox community in Milwaukee. They are proud parents at Yeshiva Elementary School, with their oldest graduating this year. As a family, they love to take road trips each summer, creating priceless memories, exploring National Parks and marveling at the wondrous and beautiful world our Creator has gifted us. Blimie is a creative at heart. She is a professional photographer who photographs her family on the daily, exploring what motherhood feels like, focusing on the uniqueness of each child and how childhood and motherhood relate to each other. She is inspired by light, color and details. In her personal work, Blimie also explores what it means to be living an Orthodox Jewish life, highlighting cultural tradition and shared humanity. Blimie offers storytelling photography sessions, photographing families, brands and businesses in a photojournalistic and documentary approach. When commissioned, Blimie sees her clients in their role as parents (or business owners) and photographs them the same way she would photograph her own, expertly telling their story with photos. Besides photography, Blimie enjoys being outdoors, feeling the sun on her face, organizing and clearing clutter and she appreciates the challenge in assisting others with interior space planning and design.

BRIT MILAH (Covenant of circumcision)

You shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskin; and it shall be a token of the covenant between Me and you.

— Genesis 17:11

Male babies are circumcised on the eighth day, barring health problems, to symbolize the covenant between God and the Jewish people.

SIMCHAT BAT (Rejoicing for a daughter)

Traditionally, a daughter is named in the synagogue during the Torah reading after her birth. Some people now develop their own ceremonies to welcome a new daughter.

PIDYON HABEN (Redemption of the first-born)

Sanctify unto Me all the first-born, whatever opens the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and of beast, it is Mine. — Exodus 13:2

Redemption of the first-born son (if he is the family's first child) takes place 30 days after birth. In ancient Israel, the first-born were dedicated to serve God in the Temple. To redeem them, five shekels were paid to the kohen (priest) to serve in the boys' stead. Today, the kohen is given five silver dollars, which are donated to charity, and a festive meal follows.

BAR AND BAT MITZVAH

The ceremony to honor the coming of age of males originated in the Middle Ages. There is no source for this celebration in the Torah.

In traditional settings, this is the first time that a young man is called to bless the Torah. The 13-year-old thus becomes responsible for the mitzvot (commandments) of praying three times a day, participating in a minyán (prayer quorum) and putting on tefillin every morning.

Over the past 50 years, girls have embraced the opportunity to celebrate a Jewish coming of age at 12 or 13. In egalitarian settings, girls celebrate through saying blessings before and after the Torah reading, counting in a prayer quorum, and observing Jewish commandments. Non-traditional ceremonies have emerged within the last 50 years for young women (ages 12 or 13) and adults past traditional bar/bat mitzvah age.

CONFIRMATION

A ceremony held in Reform and Conservative synagogues, usually during the observance of Shavuot, to celebrate the Jewish commitment of the congregation's 10th or 11th graders. The students usually have completed post-bar/bat mitzvah Jewish study.

MIKVAH (Ritual bath)

"Living" water (collected rain water piped into a pool) is used for purification. During the days of the Temples in Jerusalem, there were many occasions when ritual purification was required in order to participate in the Temple services. Today, only women still are required under Jewish law to immerse themselves at special times (before marriage, after childbirth, after the menstrual cycle). Immersion also is required by Jewish law before conversion. Many observant men immerse themselves before the Sabbath and holidays for spiritual reasons.

CHANUKAT HABAYIT (Dedicating the home)

And these words, which I command these this day shall be upon thy heart ... and you shall write them upon the doorposts of your house and upon your gates. — Deuteronomy: 6:6-9

Affixing mezuzot (decorative casings containing parchments with biblical inscriptions) to the doorposts of a new home is cause for celebration. Traditionally, this is done within 30 days of moving into a house or apartment. Mezuzot are placed on the upper third of the doorpost, on the right side as one enters. The ceremony is followed by refreshments and rejoicing.

MARRIAGE

And the Lord said: "It is not good that the man should be alone, I shall make him a helpmate for him." — Genesis 2:18

One of the first blessings every parent bestows upon a child is that he or she reach the marriage canopy. This wedding consists of several parts. The main elements are kiddush erusin (sanctification of betrothal); the betrothal blessing; presentation of the ring; reading of the ketubah (marriage contract) and its presentation to the bride; recitation of the seven marriage blessings; drinking of wine to sanctify the marriage and breaking of the glass to remember the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem even amidst the joy of the occasion. Traditional weddings are preceded by the bedeken, in which the groom places the veil over the bride's head after making certain that he is getting the correct bride. This custom stems from the patriarch Jacob, who was fooled into marrying his intended bride's sister.

DIVORCE

Judaism recognizes that not every marriage is successful and allows for divorce. Financial provisions are made in the ketubah (marriage contract). Under Jewish law, a get (religious divorce) is required in addition to a civil divorce. Although both parties must agree to the get, no grounds are required. The beit din (religious court) prepares the get and handles the documents.

DEATH

Jewish tradition recognizes death as the completion of life. Burial takes place as soon as possible, preferably within 24 hours. Traditionally, the body is washed by members of a chevra kadisha (burial society) and dressed in white linen garments, so that everyone goes to the grave equally. Preserving the body through embalming is prohibited by Jewish law, as are metal caskets, which preserve the remains. Judaism has a formalized mourning procedure with seven days of intense mourning (shiva) followed by 30 days of semi-mourning (shloshim). After a parent's death, semi-mourning continues for a year.

Holidays

SHABBAT (Sabbath)

And God blessed the seventh day and hallowed it. — Genesis: 2:3

The Sabbath, a day of rest, worship and study, begins 20 minutes before sundown Friday night and ends at nightfall on Saturday, when three stars can be seen in the sky.

ROSH HASHANAH

(Jewish New Year) ✧ 1-2 Tishrei

And on the seventh month, on the first day of the month, you shall have a holy convocation. — Numbers 29:1

The beginning of the Jewish calendar year, Rosh HaShanah begins the Ten Days of Awe, a period of repentance and prayer that concludes on Yom Kippur. Traditions include dipping apples in honey to symbolize a sweet year and using round loaves of challah to symbolize the cycle of life.

YOM KIPPUR

(Day of Atonement) ✧ 10 Tishrei

And on the 10th day of the seventh month... you shall afflict your souls. — Numbers 29:7

On this holiest of holidays, Jews everywhere fast and pray for forgiveness for their sins. The sounding of the shofar (ram's horn) signals the end of the holiday.

SUKKOT

(Festival of Booths) ✧ 15-21 Tishrei

On the 15th day of the seventh month is the feast of Tabernacles for seven days. — Leviticus 23:34

On this first of the three pilgrimage holidays, farmers in ancient Israel traveled to the Temple in Jerusalem with the fruits of their harvest.

Today, Jews erect sukkot (booths) modeled after the make-shift huts their ancestors lived in during the 40 years wandering in Sinai. For the week of the holiday, meals are eaten in the sukkah, and some Jews sleep in the sukkah as well.

SHEMINI ATZERET

(Eighth Day of Assembly) ✧ 22 Tishrei

On the eighth day, you shall have a solemn assembly. — Numbers 29:35

In the diaspora, Shemini Atzeret is a separate holiday that signals the end of Sukkot. In Israel, the holiday is celebrated on Simchat Torah. The prayer for rain is said, ending the dry season in Israel.

SIMCHAT TORAH

(Rejoicing for the Torah) ✧ 23 Tishrei

... and on the eighth day, there shall be a holy convocation for you. — Leviticus 23:34

The annual cycle of reading the Torah (Five Books of Moses) aloud in the synagogue is completed, and a new cycle begins. The holiday is celebrated with dance and song.

CHANUKAH

(Festival of Lights) ✧ 25 Kislev-2 Tevet

A minor festival not derived from the Torah, Chanukah celebrates the victory of the Jews over the Seleucid Greek/ Hellenists, the regaining of Jerusalem and rededication of the Holy Temple.

According to tradition, the miracle of Chanukah stems from the one cruse of consecrated oil that was discovered in the Temple, which burned for eight days until more pure oil could be made. Foods fried in oil, such as latkes (potato pancakes) and sufganiot (jelly donuts), are eaten.

TU B'SHEVAT

(New Year for Trees) ✧ 15 Shevat

To celebrate the coming of spring to Israel, some people eat fruits that are newly in season as part of a festive meal featuring many new fruits.

PURIM

(Lots) ✧ 14 Adar

The Book of Esther is read in the synagogue on this holiday, which is also of the post-Torah period. Celebrants dress in costume and make merry. Purim celebrates the rescue of the Jews in ancient Persia on a day that, according to tradition, was determined by lot. Families send gifts of food to one another and donate to charity. Traditional foods include hamantaschen (triangular cookies filled with fruit or poppy seeds). A festive meal is eaten before sunset.

PESACH

(Passover) ✧ 15-22 Nissan

Seven days shall there be no leaven found in your houses; for whosoever eats that which is leavened, that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel. — Exodus 12:19

The eight-day festival (seven days in Israel) commemorates the Jewish exodus from Egypt. On the first two nights, families gather for a seder, a ritual meal focused on the reading of the Hagaddah, an account of the exodus. Matzah (unleavened bread) is eaten throughout the holiday.

YOM HASHOAH

(Holocaust Remembrance Day) ☆ 27 Nissan

On this day, Jews commemorate the victims of, and the resistance to, the German Nazi genocide of European Jewry during World War II.

YOM HAZIKARON

(Israel's Memorial Day) ☆ 3 Iyar

Jews around the world remember those who gave their lives for the achievement of Israel's independence and its continued existence.

YOM HAATZMAUT

(Israel Independence Day) ☆ 4 Iyar

Celebrating the birth of the State of Israel in 1948, Jews around the world hold parades and picnics.

LAG B'OMER

(33rd day during the counting of the Omer) ☆ 18 Iyar

Lag B'Omer is a break in the weeks of semi-mourning between Pesach and Shavuot. Traditionally, it commemorates a halt in a plague that afflicted Rabbi Akiva's students in ancient Israel. The holiday is celebrated with picnics and bonfires.

SHAVUOT

(Festival of Weeks) ☆ 6-7 Sivan

And the Lord said unto Moses: "Lo I come unto thee in a cloud that the people may hear when I speak with thee." — Exodus 34:22

The anniversary of receiving the Torah on Mt. Sinai falls seven weeks after Passover. One of the three pilgrimage festivals, it celebrates the end of the spring harvest. The holiday's customs include decorating the home and synagogue with flowers, eating dairy products and staying up the entire night studying.

TISHA B'AV

(Ninth Day of Av)

Tisha B'Av is a day of fasting and mourning for the Holy Temples in Jerusalem, both of which were destroyed on this day. The book of Lamentations is read. Traditionally, no leather shoes are worn.

The Rabbi Ronald and Judy Shapiro Museum of Judaica at Congregation Shalom is designed to showcase artifacts and art relevant to Jewish religion, culture, and history, while additionally depicting Congregation Shalom's decades-long presence as a Jewish Reform synagogue in the Midwest.

The Museum is housed in four areas throughout the circular-shaped synagogue, with each section created to draw visitors into distinct periods of Jewish art and culture. More than 225 items have been catalogued to depict:

- Religious artifacts, archaeological finds, literature and art that reflect centuries-old contributions of Jewish people across the Mideast, Europe and the United States;
- A Midrashic art collection of 19th and 20th century works reflecting stories from the Hebrew Bible, including pieces by Joseph Israels, Salvador Dali, Theo Tobiasse and Marc Chagall;
- Works of internationally-renown artists such as Yaacov Agam and Reuven Rubin that celebrate the energy and spirit of modern-day Israel;
- Household items and art retrieved from the homes of European Jews who were caught up in the Holocaust. These items are displayed alongside works of post-war Jewish American artists paying tribute to "life in the Old World." The exhibit includes the only known mural ever executed by famed Wisconsin regional artist Joseph Frieber.

This section also displays a 19th century Czech Torah rescued during WWII and sent to the U.K. This Torah is now proudly housed on permanent loan at Congregation Shalom.

In addition to Joseph Frieber's mural, The Rabbi Ronald and Judy Shapiro Museum of Judaica houses custom works by internationally known sculptors Richard Edelman and Suzi Derzon. Their unique contributions in bronze, metal, tapestry and stained glass not only constitute the core of the Museum, but are also viewed by congregants as integral to our daily synagogue activities and services. Signage in each section allows for self-guided tours; free docent group tours can also be arranged by appointment. Please call the temple office at 414-352-9288 to schedule.

Gan Ami Early Childhood Education is a school led by professional educators that encourages children to explore their natural curiosity and creativity and provides opportunities for families to create community. Our co-constructed curriculum emerges from the interests and ideas of the children in collaboration with the teachers. We strive to provide a happy and relaxed learning situation that emphasizes the process of learning and the pleasure of discovery. As part of our belief that learning takes place through play and hands-on experiences, children are encouraged to develop creativity and critical thinking skills through a balance of structured activities and interactive play. We provide opportunities for our parents and teachers to grow and learn about child development, parenting and Jewish life. Being a part of a diverse community, we create connections that enrich our everyday living and learning.

“This world is G-d’s garden, but for a garden to produce good fruit, one must work particularly hard. It takes more toil and more time.” —Rabbi M. Schneersohn, the Lubavitcher Rebbe MJP follows the vision of the Rebbe in believing that education is mainly about building character with emphasis on moral and ethical values. We create a rich and challenging educational landscape, which fosters expression in a variety of ways and invites all children to absorb and discover the world around them.

The Jewish Burial Association of Madison is an IRS 501(c)(3) not-for-profit entity that operates Beit Olamim, the Jewish cemetery in the northeast corner of the Sunset Memory Gardens Cemetery. Beit Olamim has two distinct and equally beautiful and meaningful areas for burial: Sha'ar HaRachamin (Gates of Compassion), which requires those who are buried to be Jewish, as defined in the rules and regulations. This section does not permit burial of cremains. Sha'ar Shalom (Gates of Peace), which requires those who are buried to have been born Jewish, converted to Judaism, or a close relative of a Jewish person who was buried or expects to be buried here. It also allows burial of cremains. Requirements for burial in these sections are in the JBAM "Rules and Regulations" document on our website.

Founded and grounded in Milwaukee, ABCD is an international breast cancer organization that nurtures hope and restores confidence by providing free, customized, one-to-one emotional support to empower anyone impacted by a breast cancer diagnosis – patients, families, and friends. Working as a complement to medical care, all of our support services are delivered virtually over the phone or online, making them available anywhere in the world. Decades of research indicate that patients who take advantage of non-clinical support like ABCD's customized, one-to-one support are more likely to finish treatment, have improved survival rates, show a reduced risk of recurrence and report experiencing less distress, healthier social relationships, and an improved quality of life.

Our signature service is creating a unique match between a breast cancer patient or caregiver and a professionally trained volunteer Mentor/breast cancer survivor or thriver, who not only share a similar diagnosis and treatment plan, but also have common interests, similar ages, personal traits, and family dynamics. We currently have over 200 diverse Mentors located throughout the United States, enabling us to make truly personalized connections. ABCD also connects people with trusted reliable resources to help answer questions about diagnosis, appearance products like wigs, survivorship care, and work and life issues. Our confidential services can be delivered at any time of diagnosis, during treatment, or on into survivorship.
